Coaches Contact Sheet Training Season 2017-2018

What if my work schedule or another activity interferes with my practice schedule?

Remember that in order to maintain marathon conditioning, you will have to train at least 3 days per week. If you have a job, ROP, or other extracurricular that interferes with practice time, you will have to work out an alternative training schedule with one of your coaches. If you can't make it to practice for any reason, you should call or text the coach in charge of training that day as soon as possible.

A final note, SOAR's coaching staff are not required to accommodate make up miles. We only commit to scheduled practice, but will do everything possible to help you out if you contact us and try to schedule a make up run.
